

What's new at GEOS New York?

Welcome Ben at GEOS New York!

Hi. My name's Ben and I'm a new member of the GEOS NYC team. I've recently returned from Thailand where I was teaching Intermediate English writing, Business English and English for tour guides. I'm currently teaching a level 6 class at the Chelsea campus and assisting Briana with academic coordinating. That means Chelsea students can see me with any questions or concerns with their classes, or if you just want to say hi. Teaching the students at GEOS is even more fun than I could have imagined. I love traveling, reading, writing, and seeing live music. Since I've returned I've been busy catching up with family and friends, as well as adjusting to life in the BIG APPLE.

The GEOS NY Team says goodbye to Keina!

Hi! My name is Keina and I am from Japan. I was studying at GEOS for 9 months and just finished recently. Before I came to New York I didn't speak English at all, so I started as a beginner in Level 1. I couldn't speak English at I couldn't understand what my teacher was talking about in my class. I had no idea how life is in New York. I always tried to make friends from different countries and so I was able to understand them after a while and we could laugh about the same things. I learned alot about other countries and cultures and I was really impressed and interested at the same time. I actually realized studying English is fun! I really enjoyed my time at GEOS and made a lot of friends, students as well as staff members and teachers. Finally, guess in which level I finished my course? In level 5! That means I learned alot and not just English...from GEOS and New York! Thank you everybody!
